

CMEIG Media Release

CMEIG NSW Association is now formed

The NSW and ACT branch of the Construction and Mining Equipment Industry Group (CMEIG), was formed in August and represents importers, manufacturers, new and used dealers, and service companies in the region relating to construction and mining equipment.

A number of leading companies, such as Komatsu Australia, CJD Equipment, Cutting Edges and Case Equipment have joined and inquiries are increasing every week. The membership categories are:

- Manufacturers of equipment, including importers
- Distributors or dealer of new and used equipment
- Manufacturers or importers of parts or attachments for equipment
- Companies engaged in the supply of minor products and services to the construction and mining industries

Some of the benefits of joining CMEIG are:

- A real opportunity to participate in the shaping of the industry
- Discounts on field days
- Regular updates on engineering matters
- Discounts on industry statistics
- Networking at meetings

The next meeting of CMEIG (NSW) is scheduled for 24 November at Chullora with Liz Bluff, from the National Research Centre for Occupational Health and Safety Regulation at the Australian National University will present her recent paper titled A Responsive, Contextual and Networked Approach to Enforcing Safe Design of Plant. Also, Dan Leavy from WorkCover (NSW) will speak about the status of plant regulations in NSW.

If you are interested in joining CMEIG or attending the meeting, please contact George Vorobieff on 0418 445 906 or by email at vorobieff@cmeig.com.au.
